The Asgard range of products have many different features according to their design. To make identifying the benefits of each unit easy, we have developed a quick reference chart:

Weather Proof Finish. All our units are made from galvanised steel, making them suitable for outdoor use. Compare the weights of our units to other manufacturers. You can be sure we offer the toughest units on the market.

Warranty. All our units are made from highest grade materials to the highest standards. All units come with a 10 year warranty.

Optional Ramp. Our large units such as the Centurion and Gladiator feature a ramp option for the easy loading of heavy items.

Locking Systems. Strong and secure. Our units have a choice of padlock, utilities, 2, 3 or 5 point locking systems. 3 and 5 point systems feature pick resistant euro cylinders and anti theft handles.

Locking Systems. Strong and secure. Some of our units have been approved to LPCB level 1 for maximum security.

Rain Guard. Selected units have an additional rain guard over the doors to keep even the worst weather off your equipment.

BHEHPA. This symbol denotes these units are often sold to caravan/holiday home parks such as Park Resorts.

Calor Approved. Our gas units are the only units to have been designed with Calor Gas and to be a Calor choice product.

Vented Roof. All our outdoor sheds feature a system of hidden roof vents. This keeps condensation down to a minimum inside the unit. Keeping your equipment safe and dry.

Vented Fascia. Some of our outdoor sheds feature a fascia vent system. This keeps condensation down to a minimum inside the unit. Keeping your equipment safe and dry.

UK Locksmiths Approved. Some of our Asgard units have been approved by the UKLA. So you can be sure Asgard are as secure as you can get.

Why Metal and not wood??

One of the most common questions we get asked is "why should I buy metal when it will just rust? What are the advantages of metal units??"

Rust Proof

Our all metal sheds are different from most other units on the market. All our sheds are made from thick galvanised (weather proof) steel.

We then coat our galvanised metal in a polyester powder coat paint. This makes the steel not only weatherproof but tough and durable.

Asgard use only zinc coated screws for shed assembly. To prevent rust.

Weight

Good quality metal sheds are heavy. Our sheds are very heavy! With this weight comes quality and security. You can be sure that no burglars can easily lift the roof off an Asgard unit or kick in the doors or even just push the shed over. With Asgard units you can choose to fix your unit to the floor using our (included) fixing kits, then you will have maximum security for your tools and equipment

On average our units are 5 times heavier than the equivalent sized product from other companies*.

Security

A metal unit has a metal roof and metal doors. A wooden shed is weak and can be simply "kicked" in. An Asgard unit has integral stiffeners, internal shoot bolts (depending on model) double folded joints, hidden fixings, integral all metal floors, industry standard metal locking and ground anchor points. Add to this (on selected models) our internal roof clips and you really have the maximum security possible.

Many of our units are Loss Prevention Board Certified which may reduce your insurance premiums*.

Be aware that some companies claim their secure shed packages are LPCB approved. Often only the 3rd party lock included in the package is actually approved. The shed is actually made from thin steel, offering little protection against theft.

Maintenance

Other than a periodic wipe down and oiling the hinges, Asgard units are virtually maintenance free.

- No annual refelting of the roof.
- No repainting.
- No rotten panels to replace.
- No doors blown off in the wind.
- No leaks.
- No break-ins.

Asgard All Metal Storage

Low maintenance - no re-roofing or re-sealing - wooden sheds require constant care.

Asgard units will not rot or leak - wooden sheds are vulnerable to the weather.

Hidden ventilation system reduces condensation in the units.

Very heavy units are almost impossible to move when assembled and fixed.

Metal locking points - a wooden shed will at best have a hasp and staple. Rust proof*

All units have an integral metal floor - this adds weight and security.

Reinforced joints - wooden units are weak and vulnerable to attack.

Industry approved locking systems - we fit only the best locking systems. Many units in the range are LPCB level 1 approved. This can reduce your insurance premiums.

Full after sales support from a nationwide customer services team - if you have a problem, just call us.

Designed and manufactured in the UK - we are proud to be a UK based company with over 30 years experience.

Asgard - tested to destruction for your piece of mind.

With over 30 years of industry experience designing and manufacturing secure metal storage, we are pretty certain we have got it right. We encourage feedback from both the public and professional bodies on all our products and services. Below is a small selection of customer feedback and the opinions of industry professionals.

For more information about real life people and their Asgard products - see our case studies section on our website.

"An Asgard shed is one of the heaviest and best quality on the market and so their self weight and goods stored within them often mean that anchoring the base is not required for sheltered locations". John - The secrets of shed building.com

"To repeat, I thought the quality of your product is excellent. The shed it replaced was a cheapo from B&Q or similar, it was not nearly as good quality, much thinner material, loads more parts, much harder to assemble, never looked too good. The other larger shed (still in use) is better quality, still not nearly as solid as Asgard, but took us days to put together :-(. When it starts falling to bits, we'll replace it with an (Asgard) Trojan".

"Asgard sheds allowed us to secure our extensive range of sports equipment in an easy to use annex which has helped both staff and students."

"We are happy with the quality of the Asgard sheds we now have on site. They were delivered and erected swiftly and professionally."

"The strength and security of the unit is evident when you assemble it and my bike store has been secure and weather proof over the winter months. Highly recommended."

"Big thank you! My bike shed is great".

"Glad I had my Asgard with all this snow."

"Kept my bike nice and dry over Christmas"

"Good installation service. Very friendly"

"Your customer service has been exemplary. Thank you"

Cycling World said, "The Asgard Addition provides excellent security for precious bikes and takes up only the smallest of spaces"

Cycling Plus magazine rated our store 9/10 and wrote, "The best bike storage we've seen by a long way"

Bike Radar said, "The level of security here makes it a clear best buy"
Ealing Cycling Campaign (part of the London Cycling Campaign) said: "It really is an excellent piece of kit and the service was brilliant - actually emailing ahead to say the date it would be delivered and turning up on time was great". To read the bike storage article click here.

Cycling Plus 9/10 (EDITORS BEST BUY)

"Storage is always a problem for cyclists. Our bikes are often the second most valuable items we own after the car – sometimes they're worth a lot more – so we tend to bring them into the house. But bikes just aren't designed for leaning up in hallways or stuffing under beds. So if you're fed up tripping over your bike around the house and want to keep it and all the other mucky cleaning, tweaking and riding paraphernalia outside the house – where it won't get nicked – one of Asgard's bike stores could be what you're after.

Made of heavy galvanized steel the Access model we tested here has loads of well-thought out security features, such as twin shielded padlocks (included), reinforced double opening doors and a huge gas lift assisted lid – so once bolted down outside the house, we wouldn't think twice about leaving thousands of pounds worth of bikes in it. It will easily fit four adult bikes and if you go for the shelf and hook kit extras you can stack it with anything else you want to keep safe, dry and out of the house".

"Putting the bike store together was very easy, requiring little more than a spanner and bit of time."

*"Impressively strong with an excellent attack-proof design" Bike Radar

*Cycling Plus said: 9/10 - Editors * CHOICE*

"I prefer this over the Trimetal model, the shelving and hooks are a nice touch and not being top opening means you can store things on top".
